Location

The property is superbly positioned on Church Street in the heart of Enniscorthy town centre, an established and highly accessible commercial location. Church Street is a well-known and attractive thoroughfare, benefiting from footfall and proximity to a wide range of retail, professional, and civic amenities.

All town centre services are within comfortable walking distance, including shops, cafés, banks, professional offices, and public services. The area is well served by public transport, with bus & rail routes nearby providing connectivity to Dublin, Wexford and Rosslare Europort. The M11 motorway provides easy access to the capital and beyond.

Enniscorthy is an established and well-supported town with a strong local economy and an attractive streetscape. The combination of central location, accessibility, and surrounding amenities makes this an excellent opportunity for owner-occupiers or investors seeking a high-profile town centre property.

Church Street, Enniscorthy, Co. Wexford

Description: This is an impressive and attractive red brick building arranged over ground, first and second floors, extending to approximately 193 sq. m (2,077 sq. ft.). Built in 1896, the property retains much of its period character while offering substantial accommodation suitable for a range of uses.

The building has been occupied for many years as a solicitors' office and is laid out accordingly, with a combination of offices and support accommodation throughout. The internal layout is extensive and flexible, lending itself to reconfiguration depending on the intended use.

To the rear, there is an enclosed yard, a valuable feature in a town centre setting. In our opinion, the property would be suitable for a variety of commercial or professional uses and may also offer potential for conversion to residential or a mixed-use scheme, subject to the necessary planning permissions. We highly recommend early viewing
